

None of the rulers of this age understood this; for if they had, they would not have crucified the Lord of glory. But, as it is written, "What no eye has seen, nor ear heard, nor the heart of man conceived, what God has prepared for those who love him." 1 Corinthians 2:8-9

Greetings!

In his Sunday sermon, Hyung Jin Nim gave the most refreshing, honest discussion about the Kingdom of Heaven I've heard in a long time. The Kingdom of Heaven is not filled with perfect people who have perfect harmony with each other. God's perfect will is filled through imperfect people. Problems and conflicts are solved not by hiding them, but by confronting them honestly face to face.

Fake Peace, True Freedom

The Bible has a surprising level of honesty regarding the failings of, and conflicts among, believers. The letters of Paul of Tarsus bluntly discuss the problems within the church with his guidance about how to address them.

The nation of Cheon Il Guk, the Kingdom of Heaven, is filled with self-reliant citizens who solve problems at the most local level possible. On the basis of their independent foundation, true interdependence and win/win relationships become possible.

Father wanted to empower people. He approached nature with a scientific mind, with interest in new food sources, aquaponics, etc. In contrast, TV and the Internet offer a fantasy world filled with illusion. Instead of wasting our time with those things, we should develop our skills to be useful to our families and communities. Avoid borrowing and too much debt, which can become a chain around your neck.

Nim, who thankfully is united with Hyung Jin Nim, has an amazing ability to invent and to create profitable businesses. We can learn a lot from the Amish who could survive even if a severe economic downturn comes. They are free from the Satanic world in many ways.

When we worship false multiple gods instead of God, then the societal elites become "gods," leading to a caste system. The Bible promises that we will become "co-heirs" with Christ. This is only possible when all citizens have the right to own property and the means to defend their property. Communist nations allow only public property, where the state and the elites who run it are the real owners and citizens are denied the right to defend their homes and families.

Miho's Winter Meditation

This morning there was a cold rain. I laid down on a bench under "Abogee's tree," the oldest one in our town. Raindrops were falling down on my face like tears. I asked Father - are they happy tears or sad tears? He said, "they are both."

I grew up in the countryside. There was no church in the town I lived in, just Shintu shrines that had white snakes beneath them. At college I discovered the Messiah was alive on the earth. I was overwhelmed with joy.

My older brother whom I'm closest to could not understand. He threw my Divine Principle and Bible in the fire, but they would not burn. My father took them out of the ashes and gave it back to me with his blessing. His fingerprint was permanently imprinted in the hot cover of my Divine Principle.

Later he bought me a lavender dress that I wore on my flight to America. I thought I would never see him again, but I felt he was with me as I came to an unknown land, as a bride of Christ.

Miho's Bible

True Father, this past month we celebrated your 96th birthday and held the Blessing for 2100 couples in Newfoundland, a small town in Pennsylvania. We were working on the offering table, remembering which fruits and food you liked to eat.

I saw brothers and sisters from all over America and many countries gather to say how much they loved and missed you. It was a bitter cold weekend, but they came since YOU called them. There were icicles on all the buildings - the beauty of the winter.

In the days that followed Hyung Jin Nim spent many, many hours speaking to the 1st and 2nd Generation from Korea and Japan, just like you used to do. He took them outside to teach survival skills, how to start a fire, shoot a gun, skin and cook a deer.

Hyung Jin Nim often goes into the forest, even staying out all night, to talk to you. He is like you in so many ways! Why can't they see how proud you are of him?

To Aumonim,

I saw through my own eyes how you followed True Father. Especially during the Danbury time and Heung Jin Nim's sacrifice. Even after the doctor told you it would be dangerous, you had four more children.

Mother, why are you now rejecting your own son? What has he done to deserve being chased out into the wilderness? Mother, if you said, "I want to see my grandchildren growing. I want to support my anointed son, Hyung Jin, until God's Kingdom comes," you would be welcomed by all brothers and sisters!

Dark night of the soul

by Anonymous, February 2016

We heard about it, we talked about it, and the sound of it was thrust upon us by history.

*So, then. What then? Thunder and skirmishes.
We sang about it. Longed for it. Then, it came through the door of life.
We wondered. And then, thunder and skirmishes.
Turmoil and trouble, boiling and bubble, then light shining with the force of a million suns.
Penetrating, exfoliating, stripping away all the chaff, and the scum.
What then? So we sang. Thunder and lightning, skirmishes and echoes of war.
Ever your presence to behold.
Wise, ancient, full of love. And we finally knew.
This is you. You are here. You finally arrived.
And you're guiding us through the dark night of the soul.
Praising, singing praises. Singing praises.
And we walked, all the way, through the dark night of the soul.
We had heard about it, talked about it, and history rapped on our doors.
We noticed it, posted it, and then, undertook it.
Somehow, we found you, and you found us. And now, it is beyond us. The dark night of the soul.
As the thunder echoes off the mountains, and the rain begins to pelt down, washing my face, streaking through my hair - rain runs over my eyes, cold, clear, clear to the bone, cold streaming water, rain on my face, on my lips, on my shoulders. Lightning flashes show the dark forest to my left, and the rise of the mountains to my right. Mud, muck and water streaming down the hill, across my path, as I put one step in front of another. Cold, clear and penetrating. Like the life of a soul.
Like the love of a Father. Like the torturous path through a dark night.
And you were with me.
No longer good enough, just to sing, just to laugh. No, now more is required.
Now, the night begins. And my soul, it knows the dark, but the light, your light is in me.
Let the thunder roar. Let the rains flood down. As we walk, together, up the mountain, now, now I know.
Now I know. Light overcoming the dark, love overcoming sorrow, grief giving way to life.
It rings in my ears. And fills my eyes. As I put one foot ahead of the other,
I walk ahead, in the dark night,*

I find your light. In my soul.

"Sanctuary Church" is short-hand for "World Peace and Unification Sanctuary" which is from calligraphy on a scroll presented to Hyung Jin Moon by his father, Rev. Sun Myung Moon. The purpose of the "World Peace and Unification Sanctuary, Inc." is to "preserve and propagate the teachings of Reverend Sun Myung Moon."
